Elderly Filipinos' Son May Sue

By TERRY DAVENPORT

Angel and Eresvita Fidelino, the elderly Filipinos living in Daly City who were threatened with deportation, won't have to pack their bags.

But their son, Antonio Fidelino, is upset by the strings immigration authorities have attached to their offer to let his parents stay. He's so distraught that he is thinking about filing a class action suit against the government on behalf of local Filipinos.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service previously demanded a $6,000 bond in return for allowing Angel and Eresvita to remain in the U.S. Immigration officials said the bond was necessary to prevent the elderly couple from becoming public charges.

Now, Antonio said, they want him to sign one document promising he will support them and another paper that waives his parents' rights to public support.

The affidavit of support doesn't bother him much because Antonio is convinced such documents are not legally binding. But he is worried about the waiver.

Antonio protested earlier this month that he couldn't afford to post a $6,000 bond on his take-home pay of $779 per month. He said Friday he sees no way he can pay the $3,923 bill Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City presented him after his father was discharged Thursday.

Angel Fidelino was hospitalized for two weeks after a doctor diagnosed congestive heart failure - a problem Antonio attributes to the family's recent problems with immigration authorities.

Antonio said his parents and all legal immigrants are entitled to such benefits as Medicare and Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

Immigration officials disagree. On Nov. 7, they confiscated his parents' alien registration receipt cards (called "green cards") and passports as they passed through the port of entry at Honolulu after a two-month visit to the Philippines.

Although Angel, 73, and his wife, 71, are permanent resident aliens who have lived in Daly City for 6-1/2 years and have five children who are U.S. citizens, they were told they faced possible deportation because they were likely to become public charges.

Angel and Eresvita had been collecting SSI and Medicaid benefits for two years. Antonio thinks one of the reasons they were detained in Honolulu is because he was honest and returned their $251 monthly checks to the Social Security Administration when they went overseas.

Antonio said the Immigration Service's attempts to make him sign both an affidavit of support and a waiver to public benefits are illegal because he believes his parents are entitled to SSI and Medicare.

He pointed out that SSI regulations state that "citizens or lawful residents of the U.S." are eligible for the payments and that his parents certainly are lawful residents.

If enough Filipinos agree with him, Antonio said, he's prepared to file a class action suit against the government, charging that its conflicting regulations result in discrimination and that this discrimination is directed at Filipinos passing through the port of Honolulu.

Antonio noted Sears, Roebuck and Co. filed a suit last week against 10 government agencies in which the company claims conflicting and sometimes uninforced regulations have resulted in discrimination in retail employment.

Monica Bell, acting district director of the Immigration Service in San Francisco, said it's true that some lawfully admitted resident aliens can qualify for certain types of public assistance.

But Ms. Bell explained that people who were admitted to the U.S. under the condition that they would be self-supporting can have their permanent residence status revoked if it is discovered later that they are collecting public benefits.

There are many such violators, she said. "We are so overworked here that there's no way in hell we can go around and check all the welfare rolls against our records. Normally something like this wouldn't come to our attention, but when someone goes out of the U.S. and returns, we're alerted."

Ms. Bell said violators of all nationalities are found in a similar manner at all ports.

"We are hardly targeting any given group. It's a geographical reality that people from the Philippines often land in Honolulu."

Antonio said his brother did sign an affidavit promising to support his parents in 1975, before they were admitted as permanent resident aliens. But Antonio said it's common knowledge that Social Security officials encourage aliens to apply for public benefits.

He is certain that his parents are being denied benefits millions of other aliens are free to receive.

Dissidents Lose in Westlake Vote

An angry group of homeowners who want to eliminate the home maintenance restrictions that govern Daly City's Westlake section failed to marshal the necessary votes this weekend in the area's first election.

Although each of the 143 homeowners in section 6A of Westlake had the opportunity to vote on the rules Jan. 25-27, the final tally on Saturday night showed that only 20 wished to end them and another 20 favored continuing them.

A simple majority of 72 votes was required to eliminate the rules, which require residents to join the Westlake Subdivision Improvement Association (WSIA) and maintain their homes and yards according to strict guidelines.

WSIA has taken some residents to court over illegal fences, shrubs and proposed construction.

Ursula Deutsch, a founding member of the Committee to Free Westlake and who calls the rules "involuntary servitude," said Sunday, "It's a tremendous achievement that we had a vote at all."

She contends that WSIA has deliberately avoided telling Westlake residents that they have the right every 10 years to eliminate the rules and drop out of the association.

Westlake's 38 subdivisions are governed by separate contracts that are automatically renewed every decade unless a majority of the residents in each section says otherwise. The Jan. 25-27 election was the first in which homeowners exercised that right.

Prior to the election, the Committee to Free Westlake sent a letter to WSIA complaining that the association had not provided the committee with equal time to publicize its views.

William Wade of WSIA said Sunday that he believes that charge is without merit because the association informed the residents of section 6A on Jan. 4 of the pending election, there were two public meetings to air the issues and newspapers further publicized them.

Wade interpreted the 20-20 vote as evidence that there is no widespread discontent over the so-called "covenants and restrictions" governing Westlake.

He said, "Some homeowners knew that by not voting they were registering an opinion; so, I felt it was nice that 20 people bothered to come down and vote for the association."

Mrs. Deutsch said some people stayed away from the polls because they are afraid of the association, having tangled with WSIA in the past, and that others could not participate because they do not speak English.

She also complained that WSIA did not issue absentee ballots.

Wade said the association did mail ballots to absentee landlords and gave other homeowners the opportunity to vote Thursday or Friday if they could not come Saturday.

Residents vote in Westlake election

Noting that the election was conducted by a six-person committee of local residents, none of whom were WSIA board members, Wade said he thinks charges about the association's alleged intimidation "are easy to make and hard to prove."

He dismissed Mrs. Deutsch's contention that non-English-speaking residents were left out, saying, "I don't want to seem elitist but I don't think Westlake's problem in that regard is very large."

However, Wade conceded that the association "overdid it a bit" in handling its first election by asking voters to voluntarily sign their ballots.

The association will have another opportunity soon to tighten up its election procedures. Due to a request from some of the 82 homeowners in section 6B of Westlake, Wade said WSIA is planning to hold another election on the restrictions on either Feb. 24 or March 3.

Santa's Unauthorized Helpers

Some of Santa's helpers went overboard last Christmas.

The organizers of Daly City's well-known Operation Santa Claus program learned, to their dismay, that persons claiming to be affiliated with their organization asked local residents to continue food and money last Christmas.

Al Belotz, co-chairman and treasurer of 29-year-old Operation Santa Claus, said the program does not solicit food or money door-to-door. He explained that the organization is concerned primarily with giving toys to children and gift certificates to teenagers.

Although the food basket program was cancelled officially, Daly City's Community Service Center did work with Operation Santa Claus to distribute a few food boxes during the recent Christmas season. The food was contributed by local churches and schools.

Christmas isn't the only time Operation Santa Claus helps the needy.

Last year, it assisted 175 families, 486 children and about 18 senior citizens.

As Operation Santa Claus begins its 30th year, Belotz warned citizens to beware of persons purporting to represent the organization.

He urged those who wish to check someone's affiliation to contact the co-chairman, Peter Markovich, at the Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce: phone 755-8526 or Co-Chairman Ralph Hall, 756-4414.

Police Jeer Council But D.C. Stands Fast On Police Pay

There was derisive laughter in the audience Monday night as Daly City Mayor William Schumacher assured the city's police officers, "The council is concerned. We do care."

The former Daly City police sergeant's words did not pacify the three dozen members of the local Police Officers Association. They had turned out for a public hearing, for which they had asked the City Council to resolve a roadblock in their contract negotiations with the city for the 1978-79 year.

Although the differences between the city's and the association's final offers were minimal, the council did not waver at all from contract recommendations made by city negotiators. Under Daly City law, the council's determination is final.

The council's contract agreement, to be ratified Feb. 5, provides the city's patrolmen and sergeants with a 5.5 percent increase in pay and benefits, some of which will be given after the state lifts the ban on public employee raises that it imposed after the passage of Proposition 13.

The city claimed that the officers' demands would have resulted in a 5.82 percent increase. The officers maintain that their requests would have equalled the city's 5.5 percent offer.

The association's spokesman, attorney Ralph Saltsman, claimed that portions of the city's offer are illegal.

After the council refused to compromise on any of the disputed points of the contract, Saltsman said angrily, "They cannot force us to sign an agreement we didn't agree to. In the long run, it's the City of Daly City that's suffering."

Saltsman said the association is seeking legal remedies for some city practices.

Officers in the audience predicted that the new contract would increase the Police Department's turnover rate. In the last five years, the department has lost more than 30 officers.

The sticky points in the contract were:

• PAY - The council agreed to give the policemen a 2 percent salary increase, which will be placed in a trust fund until the court battle over the legality of pay raises is settled. The association wanted the city to put an amount comparable to 2 percent of the employee's contribution to retirement in a trust fund, which would be released June 30 of this year, whether or not the court battle was settled by that time.

• RETIREMENT — The city voted to pay $15.75 every two weeks as reimbursement for each employee's retirement contribution. The association declared this flat-fee arrangement illegal. The officers wanted the city to pay 2-1/2 percent of each employee's contribution to retirement.

• RANK — The council agreed to increase rank differential pay from 12.96 percent to 15 percent for a sergeant. The association asked the city to increase it to the average paid by cities of comparable size in the Bay Area — about 18 percent.

• TIME BANK — The city decided to allow policemen to accumulate up to 50 hours of overtime before demanding that comparable time be taken off or that the time be converted into pay. The officers wanted the city to allow them to accumulate up to 80 hours. Monday, the association filed a petition for a writ of mandate on the city's current handling of this policy.

• WORK WEEK — The council refused to alter the city's current policy of paying one-half of 1 percent of each employee's annual salary as compensation for being on call during the half-hour lunch hour. The officers also are required to report to work 20 minutes before the start of their eight-hour day and to stay 10 minutes afterwards. They asked the council to pay them straight wages for a 40-hour work week.

Other points that the officers won in their new contract were:

• DENTAL — A $3.50 per month increase in the city's contribution to dental insurance.

• MEDICAL - A $10 per month increase in the city's contribution to medical insurance.

• UNIFORMS — A $25 per year increase in the uniform allowance.

• OVERTIME — Overtime accrued by court appearances will be paid at time-and-one-half, with a minimum of two hours at time-and-one-half.

Although officers expressed concern that current court battles over the legality of raises may invalidate the 2 percent salary increase, Schumacher said after the meeting, "They'll get their 2 percent, no matter what."

Schumacher also denied the asso-

Time-Off Policy To Court

Daly City police officers are taking the police chief to court over an alleged policy of asking officers who have accumulated 40 hours of overtime to take time off from work rather than be paid for those hours.

In a petition for a writ of mandate filed Monday, the Daly City Police Officers Association accuses Chief David Hansen of violating the city's regulations on accrued time and asks the court to make the city pay for the excess hours worked.

The association quotes this section from the city's regulations as its rationale for requesting the writ: "A department head shall grant accrued time off to an employee upon written request from the employee. Such time off may be taken within 180 calendar days of time accrued. Uniformed police and fire personnel shall have the right to request pay for the accrued time after 30 days of accruing same.

"If accrued time off in the police and fire departments is not granted in accordance with the above, uniformed police and fire personnel shall be paid within six months from the pay period in which the time was accrued."

The association claims that Hansen has ordered officers to take time off from their regular schedules, to avoid paying them for accrued overtime, despite previous protests registered by the association.

In its petition, the association also asks the court to make the city pay for attorney fees and costs connected with filing the writ.

Hansen said Tuesday, "I have never refused to pay for time that has been requested."

He explained that it is the city's policy to try to keep accrued time down and that he arbitrarily set a limit of 40 hours of accumulated time for his officers.

Hansen stressed that, as chief of police, he is not involved in negotiations and merely tries to administer the terms of the current contract.

Monday the City Council approved new contract terms with the association for 1978-79 that limit officers to accruing 50 hours. The council is scheduled to ratify the contract Feb. 5.

Robberies, Labor Strife Bring Police

Daly City police were kept busy Friday and early Saturday with a series of incidents.

Thomas Wurtz, 19, and his wife were robbed of a large but undetermined amount of cash in an armed robbery at 34 Cypress Lane, in the Crocker Industrial Park, at 9:45 a.m. Friday, by two men, one armed with a small handgun, according to reports.

The gunman was described as 26 years old, 5-foot-8, thin build, with a ponytail hair style and wearing a brown leather jacket. The other was in his early 20s, 5-foot-6, thin build and with a medium Afro hair style and wearing a green and white knit cap, reports said.

A small fire in piled paper products was called arson at the S. E. Rykoff and Co. food distribution plant at 2659 Bayshore Blvd. at about 9:45 p.m. Friday, stemming

Jail Term In Fraud Case

In one of the harshest sentences for welfare fraud, a Daly City woman who cheated the county out of $5,409 in aid and $2,315 in food stamps has been sentenced to 60 days in county jail and ordered to pay back the $7,724, District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson reported today.

Sorenson said the sentence was imposed on Jan. 19 on Barbara Edwards in Northern Municipal Court.

She had pleaded guilty to welfare fraud.

Inspector Charles Etter said Ms. Edwards failed to report job earnings and unemployment insurance benefits.

Some Win, Some Lose Out In D.C. Funding Plans

Months of lobbying paid off for the promoters of nine projects in Daly City last week when the city's Planning Commission nearly echoed the recommendations of the General Plan Citizens Advisory Committee on how to spend $833,000 in 1979-80 Housing and Community Development Act (HCDA) funds.

The City Council is scheduled to decide Feb. 5 which community development programs will receive the federal funds. In the past, the council has followed closely the recommendations of its two advisory groups.

If the council goes along with the Planning Commission and the Citizens Advisory Committee again, the $833,000 will be spent on these projects:

LINCOLN PARK - Both bodies recommend allocating the full $50,000 requested for this public park in the Crocker section of Daly City.

HOUSING — The Planning Commission suggests spending $310,000 on housing rehabilitation, handyman and self-help house painting programs in the oldest section of Daly City. The Citizens Advisory Committee recommends funding of $303,650. The city staff originally asked for $370,000.

BAYSHORE AREA — The citizens committee voted to fund the entire $85,000 requested for storm drain and litter programs in the Bayshore district. The Planning Commission approved $70,000.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT — Although the Citizens Advisory Committee recommends no funding of this redevelopment program during 1979-80, it agreed with the Planning Commission to back funding of $100,000 in both 1980-81 and 1981-82. The commission also voted to spend $110,350 on the program in 1979-80.

MULTI-PURPOSE CENTER — The city originally asked for $308,700 for this community meeting place, to be built on Mission Street. The Planning Commission suggests $147,000 in funding and the citizens group recommends $188,700 in funding.

HILLSIDE PARK — Both bodies suggest spending $32,000 on this park in the Blossom Valley area, compared to the $182,000 requested.

GUADALUPE HEALTH CENTER - This community medical facility requested $40,000 for building improvements. The Planning Commission recommends allocating $25,000 to the center, while the citizens committee trimmed that figure to $15,000.

CROCKER IMPROVEMENTS — Of $218,650 requested for street improvements in the Crocker neighborhood, the commission approved $78,650 and the citizens group recommended spending $148,650.

ANTI-CRIME LEAGUE — This citizens' crime group asked for $20,000 and won a recommendation from both bodies for funding amounting to $10,000.

Eight organizations that requested HCDA funding were turned down by both the Planning Commission and Citizens' Advisory Committee. They are:

TOT LOT — The city asked for $75,000 to improve the John Daly Tot Lot.

CHILD CARE — The Daly City Community for Children's Services requested $47,983 for its child-care program for low-income families.

DANCE — Julius Castelan wanted $2,500 to continue a dance and music program for senior citizens.

CROCKER NEIGHBORHOOD — The Crocker Neighborhood Association launched a new campaign to channel federal funds into that area. However, the request for $182,200 was rejected.

WATER MAINS — The city requested $44,500 for a water main improvement project in target neighborhoods.

SUBSIDIZED HOUSING — Developer Thomas Safran asked for $100,000 to sudsidize a 34-unit townhouse complex at Hyde Court and King Drive for low-income tenants. Under his plan, the government would help pay the rent.

YOUTH EMPLOYMENT — Eddie C. Welbon's Daly City Multi-Purpose and Educational Service Center, Inc., wanted $46,200 to continue a youth employment program.

BART — The city requested $60,000 for pedestrian improvements in the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station area in Daly City.

The council is expected act on HCDA funding Feb. 5 at 7 p.m. in the council chamber at City Hall.

Malaria Outbreak Seen

Reduced mosquito abatement because of Proposition 13 may increase outbreaks of malaria and encephalitis in California this year and in the future, a convention meeting in Burlingame was told Monday.

William C. Reeves, professor of epidemiology at the University of California, Berkeley, described the "crippling effect" of Proposition 13 "upon the 80 mosquito abatement districts and local health departments performing vector prevention and control" in the state.

Vectors, he explained, are animals or insects which carry disease. Mosquitos are "vectors," so are rats.

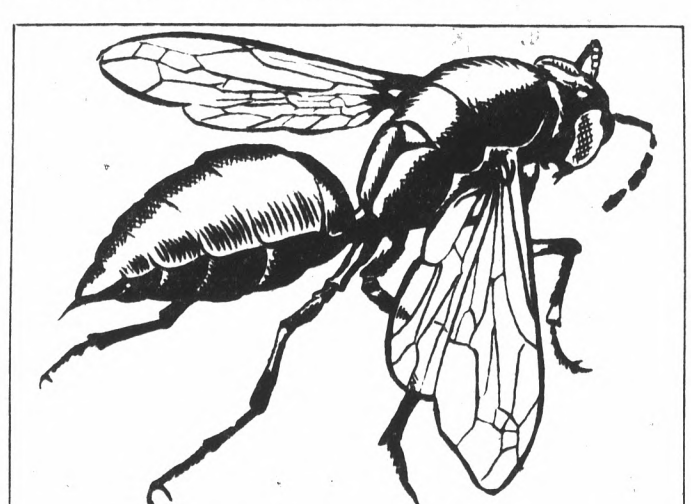
With reduced income from taxes, because Prop. 13 cut tax income to local governments, a drop in anti-mosquito activity is certain, he said.

The result is going to be an increase in the types of disease borne by mosquitos — especially malaria — unless money is restored to the disease-fighters.

Reeves pleaded for increased state financial support to prevent the disease-carrying insect activity.

"State subvention is the best alternative," he said.

"It has operated successfully in the past, and is most likely to provide sufficient and timely financial assistance to local vector control agencies statewide."



He said vector control programs are "vital to the continued health and well-being of all Californians."

Reeves estimated $12 million in state funds would be needed each year to fund insect control programs across the state.

The three-day meeting of the California Mosquito and Vector Control Association is being held at the Airport Marina through Wednesday.

Sessions are open to the public.

Henry Eich, director of environmental health for San Mateo County, also was scheduled to address the meeting today on the effects of Prop. 13 and recent funding recommendations.

San Mateo County's Mosquito Abatement District is conference host, said manager-entomologist Charles Hansen.

This is the association's 47th annual conference.

from a labor dispute, police and firemen said.

The firing of a night foreman apparently had led to a walkout of six or seven other workers and the fire was set during the commotion, investigators said.

Company employees using fire extinguishers quelled the flames, on the north side of the building interior, firemen said. Damage was confined to the pile of paper, they added.

The Jack in the Box restaurant at 7217 Mission St. was relieved of its safe sometime between 1:30 and 5 a.m. Saturday, with someone smashing a glass door and window to get in and prying open up upper-level office door to get at the safe, police said.

Missing is a 16-by-16-by-24-inch black Melnik safe with an undetermined amount of money in it, officers said.

ciation's charge that the council is hiding behind Proposition 13.

The mayor said, "I know it's not much compensation but there are many communities in this county that offered no compensation this year."

Six citizens spoke in favor of the officers' requests during the hearing.

Ramblings

By STEVE KAUFMAN

Westmoor High School is the scene of a quiet, serene student body as hundreds of students prepare for the annual end-of-semester final examinations. Thursday is the final day for these tough exams, and Friday is a holiday, a small way to say to students, "Nice work — take the day off." I hope all who had to work hard for these tests did well.

Westmoor's Executive Board recently announced the upcoming movies for the remainder of the school year. They are: Feb. 5, 6, 7, "The Goodbye Girl"; Feb. 27, 28, March 1, "Silver Streak"; March 20, 21, and 22, "The One and Only"; April 4, 5, and 6, "American Hot Wax"; and finally, the movie which has been a smash hit all across America, playing May 7, 8, and 9, "Saturday Night Fever." Admission is only 25 cents. Thanks to Mrs. Schwimmer, whose dedicated work helps bring these movies to Westmoor.

In future columns I will feature a new and interesting item, the standings for the Perpetual Trophy. This coveted award, which goes to the Class with the most spirit, has been won by the graduating class of 1979. It is awarded at the annual awards assembly and is one of the many highlights of the school year.

Best of luck to both the junior and freshman classes. The juniors are going to sell bumper stickers bearing the insignia of Westmoor High School from Feb. 12 to 23. The freshmen will sell leather key chains bearing the school symbol, the Ram. Hope all sales go well.

Best of luck to two of Westmoor's organizations, the school radio station, KRAM, and the yearbook. They are combining forces to produce a "Computer Dance." This event is new to the school. Students, upon buying their tickets to the dance, fill out a questionaire about their personality, hobbies, etc. The answers are marked on a computer data card.

Two weeks before the dance, all of these cards are sent back to the firm which distributes them and are run through a computer, which matches up people with like personalities. Upon entering the dance, one is handed several numbers on a sheet of paper and has to find other people in the dance with the same number. Thus, a "perfect match" perhaps may be found.

Congratulations to Gary Borghello, a junior at Westmoor. He recently was appointed unanimously by the school's Executive Board to be the new student body treasurer.

Many of Westmoor's clubs had meetings last week. These included the Student Congress, Filipino Club, Hermanos Latinos, Atom's Family, Drama Club, freshman class, Planning Council, Special Olympics, and the Prom Committee.

SPORTS — Congratulations to Westmoor's varsity basketball team, which defeated Half Moon Bay 100-65. It was the first time in Westmoor's history the Rams have reached 100 points. The Rams are only two games out of first place, behind undefeated Jefferson.

Best wishes to the swim team and track teams. Both have begun to organize for practice for the coming season.

'Anti-Crime' Fete to Honor 3 Officers

A dinner will highlight Anti-Crime Week Feb. 5-11, which Mayor William Schumacher of Daly City has proclaimed. Following entertainment by the Kelelani Polynesian dance troupe, three police officers will be given plaques for outstanding service. The dinner will be at the House of Parties, Feb. 11, from 5 to 9:30 p.m.

The officers honored are Sgt. George Carleton of the Colma Police Department, Sgt. S. N. Bennett of the Broadmoor Police Department, and Senior Detective James R. Mendiara of the Daly City Police Department.

Anti-Crime material will be given out at tables in the mall of the Serramonte Shopping Center Feb. 9 and 10. The Exahange Club's efforts will be augmented by assistance from the Anti-Crime League of Daly City.

The associations in the League are Bayshore Residents, Southern Hills Homeowners, Crocker Neighborhood, Original Daly City Protective Association, and Broadmoor Property Owners.

Prevention of crime is a major and continuing effort of the National Exchange Club, which points out that there has been a decrease in residential burglary nationwide. But it warns against complacence or any let-down in the fight against crime. Locally, the club will work with the Anti-Crime League of Daly City.

50 YEARS

The 50th anniversary of the Crocker-Pershing-Washington schools PTA will be celebrated Friday at the Washington School multi-purpose room, beginning with a coffee hour at 7 p.m. "Vistas of the Past, Present, and Future" is the theme. Among the numbers will be a pageant entitled, "I Like the Sounds of America," presented by children under the direction of Mrs. Felisa Trias of the Washington faculty. The public is invited.

Anyone who has items of historical interest pertaning to the schools may notify Mrs. Violet Norsworthy, 584-3709. The school would like to add to its collection for a permanent display at 101 Lincoln Ave., the Educational Center. Among the celebrants will be, holding the flag left to right, Ben De La Rosa, Lisa Gaviola, Riba Buenaluz, and Victor Luscap. Back row, left to right, Jason Wooten, Bettina Baros, and Jose Castellar.

AT HOLY ANGELS

Pictured are some of the items that to be available at the rummage sale by Holy Angels Women's Guild Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Parish Hall at 107 San Pedro Road, Colma. Proceeds will go to help support the church and school. Pictured from left, are Melanie Dale and Gerry Hammill, and, kneeling, Danny Fonti.

'Fun and Relaxation' For Members of Guild

Louanne Heath

Members of the Mary's Help Hospital Build in Daly City are preparing to enjoy a few hours of fun and relaxation later this week.

Mrs. Virginia Stanghellini reports that guild members able to get away will leave tomorrow for the Sahara Hotel, Reno, to enjoy two days of gaming, sightseeing and breathing that cold, clean, desert air.

Guild members are mourning the passing of Helen Corbett, long time volunteer at the hospital.

Mrs. Corbett's death caused a change of the guild meeting schedule and the Jan. 19 meeting was postponed until last Friday. Donn L. Thomas, Director of the Facilities Development, was the guest speaker.

Harriet McCawley, vice president of the Western Women's Bank will speak at Friday's meeting of the Loyola Guild.

The meeting, and the tea to follow, will be held in the University Center Lounge, on the campus of the University of San Francisco, beginning at 1:45 p.m., according to Mrs. Fred Perata.

Furniture, jewelry, toys, shoes, clothing and a wide variety of household items will go on sale in the Holy Angels Catholic Church parish hall this Saturday.

Mrs. Dianne Leonetti, the publicity chairman for the Women's Guild, reports that the items are to be sold during the annual rummage sale, which will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 3:30 p.m.

The parish hall is located at 107 San Pedro Road, Colma.

Mrs. Pat Fonti is chairing the sale.

Members of the Daly City Area Chapter of AARP will visit Reno this weekend as a part of the club's schedule of outtings.

According to Servart Ojakian, publicity person, the trip director hopes to organize a trip to Yosemite in the spring.

Mrs. Robert Drucker and Mrs. Charles Vaoncini have announced the names of the hostesses for the Feb. 10 fashion show and luncheon, Silver Reminisce, to be sponsored by the Westlake Catholic Women.

Helping to seat the more than 1,000 women gathering in the grand ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel will be Mrs. Lawrence Ahern, Mrs. Dave Anderson, Mrs. K. Balestrieri, Mrs. Noel Bragg, Mrs. Charles Boerio, Mrs. Hal Boyd, Mrs. Dario Baciocco, Mrs. William Berube, Mrs. Edward Carey, Mrs. A. Crennen, Mrs. Michael Cooney, Mrs. Marcel Covell, Mrs. Bruno Columbini, Mrs. Gregory Dellanini, Mrs. Alfred DeMartini, Mrs. Steven England, Mrs. Roger Ferrari, Mrs. Julian Fernando, Mrs. Martin Getchell, Mrs. Paul Gonzalez and Mrs. Frank Grimley.

Also serving as hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Gravelle, Mrs. Robert Gelini, Mrs. Herbert Hawley, Mrs. William Holden, Mrs. Richard Hutchinson, Mrs. John Hughes, Mrs. Michael Hughes, Mrs. K. Jones, Mrs. Gerald Randall, Mrs. John Sullivan, Mrs. John Willden, Mrs. John Kilbeary, Mrs. K. Lund, Mrs. John Minkel, Mrs. Al Modena, Mrs. Mike Millane, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. H. McNab, Mrs. David Pangburn, Mrs. Albert Rodgers, Mrs. James Rainey, Mrs. Robert Reich, Mrs. Eugene Smith, Mrs. Thomas Scholz, Mrs. Andrew Skirra, Mrs. Elwin Short, Mrs. Dino Tonelli, Mrs. Pete Wittkamp, Mrs. John Zuffo, Mrs. Frank McCann, Mrs. Eugene Simpson, Mrs. G. Vince and Mrs. Maneul Rendon.

Mrs. Michael Nevin and Mrs. Harry Quinn are chairwomen of the fashion show.

Dennis Day will be the guest entertainer.

Members of the Harborlighters of Lakeside Presbyterian Church will hold a install of officers at a dinner meeting Feb. 9 at 6:30 p.m. in the church social hall.

Wilbur Russell will show slides of Egypt and William and Dorothy Riley will be installed as skippers.

Why Citizens stands apart.

No other bank or savings association offers you all these money-saving, money-making services.

Citizens Income Tax Preparation Service. It may turn the new tax laws into new tax savings for you.

Congress' 1978 Tax Act is going to make preparing your returns even more taxing than usual. So take advantage of Citizens Income Tax Preparation Service.

Our trained preparers will complete your 1978 Individual Federal and California returns and computer-check them to maximize accuracy and deductions – and minimize the tax dollars you pay. What's more, Citizens Income Tax Preparation Service is available all-year-round.

Ask us for complete qualifying details. Appointment times are filling rapidly, so contact your Citizens office today.

Citizens Individual Retirement (IRA) Accounts. If you didn't qualify for tax savings before, you may qualify now.

Are you a widow or widower, teacher or employee of a non-profit organization? If so, a Citizens Individual Retirement (IRA) Account could defer the taxes on funds you receive from your spouse's or employer's retirement benefits.

If you are an employer and would like to set up a pension plan, we can show you how individual IRA accounts for your employees could save your company time and money.

Citizens "Check Your Interest"® Plan. Weigh it against bank interest-checking plans.

Compare Citizens "Check Your Interest" Plan with bank plans that pay interest on funds used for checking. Citizens offers you 5.00% on these funds plus 5.75%* interest on your qualifying savings account ....in one convenient place. With no monthly service charges! Check it out at Citizens today.

*3 month Certificate: Federal regulations require a substantial penalty for early withdrawal from term accounts.

Excellence Awards From Many Sources

Recognition for excellence has come from many sources in the form of awards during more than 14 years L'AUBERGE French restaurant has been in operation in Redwood City at the edge of Atherton. But an even more gratifying "award" bestowed on Owner-host LOUIS FRUTSCHI and his award-winning staff comes from a legion of loyal and discriminating patrons, who have made L'Auberge their favorite for gourmet dining and entertaining over the years ... Looking for a way to reciprocate for a past lunch or dinner invitation and enjoy some super Italian food at the same time? Hie on over to ROMANO'S Italian and seafood restaurant at Rockaway Beach. It's really a surprisingly easy/quick drive to Pacifica from anywhere on the Peninsula, via Highway 92 or 380. Open from 4 p.m. every day ... Did you know you can arrange for a private group or banquet (up to 30 persons) with a special menu of home-style German food at TILLIE'S 'LIL' FRANKFURT, an authentic German and European restaurant in Moss Beach? Tell TILLIE SCHOLTZ the occasion and she'll arrange a party your guests will long remember. And the cost will be modest. Wednesday is family night, when Tillie serves an all-you-can-eat family-style dinner for only $4.29 (includes a glass of wine).

FESTIVE ATMOSPHERE

A friendly reception and true Mexican food and atmosphere are basic attractions at Chris Vlassis' colorful La Pinata Mexican restaurant-cantina in downtown Burlingame.

Famous Guests Feast on Steaks

Among the many famous dinner guests at PHIL LEHR'S Pay-ByOunce Steakery, on the lower level of the San Francisco Hilton Tower, the other night were Senator Alan Cranston and clothing magnate Adolph Schumann. They feasted on huge T-bone steaks ... John Dapello, with over 30 years culinary experience with such places as the St. Francis Yacht Club and the Blue Fox, has been appointed chef at SERRAMONTE JOE'S in Daly City ... SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S restaurant, owned by former 49ers JIM SNIADECKI, has become a favorite dining haven for 49ers players and their fans. 49ers Jimmy Webb, Joe Thomas, Bob Akers and Ed Gallagher were among the celebrity visitors seen here last week ... Once in a while some kindhearted soul will toss a few chunks of French bread to the two seagulls perched alongside a couple of "bitts" atop the shingled canopy over the entrance to THE MOONRAKER and CAPTAIN CHARLES restaurants, which are across from NICK'S in the GUST'S restaurant complex at Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Only when the two gulls don't grab the goodies do you discover they're really not real. What's a "bitt"? Just ask any yachtsman or old salt ... The old traditions are preserved at BEARDSLEY'S and new touches of hospitality added. The bar opens at 4 p.m., dinner is served from 5:30 p.m.

Attractive Lounge For Conviviality

Yes, it was a super Super Bowl day at BAYHILL LOUNGE. Genial Owners MEL CICERO and HARRY CURUSIS opened for football fans to enjoy the game on TV amid convivial company. But you'll find the same conviviality at this attractive lounge in Bayhill Shopping Center, San Bruno, anytime you drop by for a little libation, lunch or dancing to the popular INDEED group ... ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB in San Francisco is a discovery for prime rib lovers. Three different cuts are offered: thick "Rosebud's Cut," "English Cut" (sliced thin) and the brown 'n' crusty "end cut." The $9.95 price includes soup or salad, Yorkshire pudding and fresh vegetables du jour ... DEAN LEHR reports that the current disco dance contest at LEHR'S CABARET DISCO in San Francisco is attracting wall-to-wall crowds every Tuesday evening. An applause meter determines the weekly contest winners, who will compete in a big dance-off on April 3 for the Grand PRize trip for two to Madrid, Spain. Dinner patrons in the adjoining LEHR'S GREENHOUSE garden restaurant get free admission to the Cabaret Disco...When you've savored the special clam chowder made according to a secret recipe and served at VINCE'S Seafood and Italian restaurant in San Mateo, have you thought how nice it would be if you could enjoy this recipe at home? Well, you can. Owner NINA LICATA and general manager and son TONY have made it available every Friday by the pint or quart at VINCE'S SEAFOOD DEPOT, where fresh fish, crabs and other delicacies of the briny deep are sold right next to the restaurant. It's usually a sell-out, so get there early.

There's a slot machine at BARNEY'S club-casino in South Lake Tahoe that is said to be the "world's largest" — and it is really gigantic. Because of precision balancing, the huge handle of Barney's "biggie" pulls easily and smoothly. And some of the payouts that have cascaded out of it seem to match its gargantuan size. Nearby is the SOUTH TAHOE NUGGET for another sample of similar fun, also great all-you-can-eat buffet lunch or dinner

Jr. Grand National In April

The 33rd annual Junior Grand National Livestock Show, the showcase for future livestock breeders and ranchers, will be April 6 to 10 at the Cow Palace in Daly City, Junior Grand National Manager Darrel Chapman announced recently.

Featured along with the livestock expo will be a Junior Horse Show April 12 to 18 and Junior Rodeo April 7 and 8.

Livestock entries close Feb. 28. The exposition features market classes, dairy and goat show, open to all 4-H Club and FFA members; and an open breeding show for heifers and ewes, open to anyone of ages 9 and 19. Contestants must show their own animals.

All market animals will be weighed on opening day. Judging of 4-H market hogs begins at 6 p.m. Judging continues April 7 and 8. On April 9 will be the 4-H and FFA judging contest, with the Bank of America dinner following in the evening.

Livestock sales will begin with the California Angus Association Heifer Sale. On April 8 the Palace of Stars All-Breed Sheep Sale will be at 3 p.m., followed by the market hog sale and the California Junior Polled Hereford Association Heifer Sale on April 9. Rounding out the sales will be the market lamb and steer auctions April 10.

For information, contact the Cow Palace, Livestock Department, P.O. Box 34206, San Francisco 94134, 584-2480.

HEARTFELT THANKS

Residents of St. Francis Convalescent Pavilion in Daly City gathered recently to express their gratitude to employees of the Denny's Restaurant in Serramonte Shopping Center. The employees spent their own money on a dinner for six of the residents and gifts for all 239 residents last Christmas. Most of the employees entertained the residents on their day off. Anna Floyd of Pacifica, shown in foreground, said she and the other Denny's employees wanted to share the spirit of Christmas. Presenting her with a plaque expressing their thanks are, back row, left to right, Mary Maun and Ann Connor; front row, left to right, Walter Beck, Fannie Koch and Petie Mack.

DIGGING INTO THE PROP BOX

OFFERING ENCOURAGEMENT

Rehearsing for Red Riding Hood

The classic children's story of "Little Red Riding Hood" will be presented by the Peninsula Children's Theater Association on Saturday at Skyline College and on Feb. 10 at Canada College.

Three performances are scheduled each day — at 10 a.m. and 12:30 and 3 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door, and special rates are available for groups of 10 or more. Additional details can be obtained from Mrs. Michael Corsetti of San Mateo.

See Story On Page 11

The production is directed by Guy Edwards and the cast includes Carole Farrell as Little Red Riding Hood, Karen Stern as her mother and Bev Flippen as her grandmother.

Other cast members are Marie Sime, Robbie Rabbit; Carol Spieker, Friendly Snake; Jean McGann, Bonnie Bird; Penny Brown, Baby Bird; Opal McDonald, Cuckoo Bird; Elayne McCrea, Bear; and Suzanne Parsons, Wicked Wolf.

Also in the cast are Phyllis Sharron, Fox; Lynn Noren, Ranger Randolph; and Vanja Haley, Ranger Randolph's faithful dog Rolph. Members of the "scary forest" are Sue Brigham, Phyllis Brock, Judy Carrico, Maudie Carrah, Mary Jane Moose and Mary Lee Stoddard.

LIKE THIS, PLEASE

Hanna Wenrick, production manager for "Little Red Riding Hood," explains a technicality to her crew. The PCTA production will be presented on Saturday at Skyline College and on Feb. 10 at Canada College with performances at 10 a.m. and 12:30 and 2 p.m. each day.

Bev Flippen, Little Red Riding Hood's grandmother, goes over her lines as she awaits her rehearsal call. PCTA members have been cast in the production they are sponsoring.

Choir Needs Experienced Adult Singers

The Peninsula Master Chorale auditions will be held on Feb. 6 and 13 at 7 p.m. in the Choral Room of Building 3 at Canada College.

The 48-voice community choir, directed by Carl Sitton, is open to experienced adult singers of college age and beyond. Regular rehearsals are held on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. in the Choral Room. Coming concert dates have been announced as April 3 and June 8.

A New Museum, After 10 Years

Perspective

By ARVILLE FINACOM

Groundbreaking ceremonies at 2 p.m. this Friday, Groundhog Day, mark the end of nearly 10 years of planning for the Coyote Point Museum for Environmental Education, which soon will fit its Douglas Fir features familiarly into a knoll-top site in the popular San Mateo County Coyote Point Park.

When the Museum Association began a feasibility study in 1969 it was with an eye to enlarged facilities for the existing natural history center at Coyote Point begun in 1954 as the San Mateo County Junior Museum and housed in a small warehouse and quonset hut, remnant of the World War II Merchant Marine Academy at the point.

But, as planners visited educational facilities and natural science museums in the Bay Area, they found themselves confronted constantly with a new and rather special message: "The Bay Area needs an institution which objectively interprets man's interaction with his surroundings."

It was, precisely, a lack of such interpretation and consequent understanding that during the 1960s brought the United States as a front-runner nation to the brink of environmental disaster. In his State of the Union message in 1970, President Richard M. Nixon put it simply and specifically. "The great question of the 70s is: Shall we surrender to our surroundings, or shall we make our peace with nature and begin to make reparation for the damage we have done to our air, to our land, and to our water?"

At about the same time, environmentalist Barry Commoner said, "We have the time — perhaps a generation — in which to save the environment from the final effects of the violence we have done to it."

Back in San Mateo County, among members of the museum association, the concept for a new kind of facility developed, a totally new way to consider nature. A prospectus for the project puts it: "Man will be part of the ecosystem depicted." Ideally, understanding will come before future environmental crises rather than after.

Along with this new kind of focus, a new kind of museum needed to be developed, one which would not look at nature in the classic sense apart from man, but one in which visitors can see themselves within a specific environment and assess their impact upon it, and conversely, its impact on them.

To make a 10-year-long story short, the museum association caught the vision of developing this new kind of facility, realizing it could become a prototype for regional museums in many parts of the U.S. Gordon Ashby, designer of exhibits for the Oakland Museum, was hired to develop the permanent display, titled "The Place Called San Mateo."

Creating around a unifying and essential symbol, water flowing from the crest of the Coast Range West to the ocean and east to the Bay, Ashby designed flat, dimensional, still and moving displays stressing man's interaction with biological "natural" communities. Integral in each display is an offering for consideration of various alternatives through which one responsibly and effectively can maintain balanced interaction.

Obviously, housing for such an innovative display should enhance it. The museum association engaged the talents of Palo Alto architect John W. Stypula, who has designed among other things the Palo Alto Baylands and San Francisco Bay National Wildlife interpretive centers. Stypula's design for the 24,000 square feet structure includes an 8,000 square feet permanent exhibit area and space for administrative offices, a changing exhibit gallery, a museum shop and maintenance facilities.

By the middle of the 70s, many San Mateo County park and public officials agreed with the concept. In November 1977, approximately $1.2 million in county funds was allocated for construction. But by the time the project went to bid late in 1978, inflation had pushed construction estimates to $1.9 million.

Since county funds are fixed, the museum association board of directors approved a donation of money earmarked for exhibit construction and maintenance and placed a note for $750,000 at the disposal of the county to meet additional costs. However, if state urban park planning monies become available and if costs can be trimmed, the association stands to regain some of its gift.

Whether it rains or the sun shines Friday, there will be many smiling faces on county officials, on members of the museum association and its auxiliary and on docents-in-training, each eager to begin in-gallery work. In the symbolic shovels full of earth turned over that afternoon exists a true beginning for the next phase of what promises to become a nationally-acclaimed venture dedicated to environmental understanding.

'Red Riding Hood' at Skyline

The classical children's story of "Little Red Riding Hood" will be presented by Peninsula Children's Theater Association Feb. 3 at Skyline College, and at Canada College Feb. 10. Suspense and heroes to the rescue will bring thrills and cheers as Little Red Riding Hood journies through the eerie forest to visit her grandmother. The efforts of her friends, Robbie Rabbit, the Snake, Bear, and the Birds to protect her from the wicked Wolf seem in vain. Then they are rewarded when Ranger Randolph and his faithful dog, Ralph, come to the rescue.

Little Red Riding Hood is played by Carole Farrell, her mother is Karen Stern, Grandmother is portrayed by Bev Flippen. Marie Sime is Robbi Rabbit, Carol Spieker the friendly snake, Jean McGann of Bonnie Bird, and Baby Bird is Penny Brown. Opal McDonald appears as Cuckoo Bird. Elayne McCrea plays Bear and Suzanne Persons is the Wicked Wolf.

Others in the cast are Phyllis Sharron as the Fox, the Wolf's partner in crime. Lynn Noren plays Ranger Randolph and the Rolph is played by Vanja Haley. Members of the scary forest are Sue Brigham, Phyllis Brock, Judy Carrico, Maudie Carrah, Mary Jane Moose, and Mary Lee Stoddard.

There will be three performances each day, at 10 a.m., 12:30 and 3 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door at $2 each. Special rates are available for groups of 10 or more. For information, call Peninsula Children's Theater Association at 343-3996 or 854-3055.

Skyline Trombonists

Eighty trombone players will perform a world premiere of Henry Brant's "Orbits — A Symphonic Spatial Ritual for Eighty Trombones," at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco Feb. 11 at 3 and 8 p.m.

Gerhard Samuel, former conductor of the Oakland Symphony and the Los Angeles Philarmonic and now at the Cincinnati Conservatory, will conduct Skyline College's Bay Bones Trombone Choir.

The trombonist group is directed by Skyline College instructor Billy Robinson and Will Sudmeier. They also will perform works by Thomas Tallis, Giovanni Gabrielli and Orlando de Lassus.

Brant is a resident composer at Bennington College, Vermont.

St. Mary's Cathedral was chosen for the unique program because of the interior circular architecture, which has eight knaves — each of which will hold ten trombonists for Brant's Spatial Symphony, according to Robinson. A Tallis motet for 40 voices also will use the circular layout.

Skyline's Bay Bones trombone choir performs frequently at colleges and festivals. During the past year the choir has been featured at the International Trombone Workshop in Nashville, Tenn.; the Cabrillo Music Festival; and the Russian River jazz Festival.

'Golda' Group Forms

The B'nai B'rith Women Business and Professional Golda Meir chapter-in-formation met recently and has made plans for future program meetings. The group, which expects to charter officially in May, is interested in meeting other Jewish working women in the area.

The next meeting, Feb. 5 at 8 p.m., will feature Dr. Ziva Ben-Porath, who will speak on "Israel Career Women." Dr. Ben-Porath is on sabbatical from Tel-Aviv University and teaches Near Eastern Comparative Literature.

Future program plans include the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, genetic diseases, career counseling, and retirement planning for women. Joyce Levin is chairman pro tem of the group and Beverlee Bartoli, BBW Central Pacific Regional Board member, is the BBW organizer.

All intersted women may contact Roberta Steiner, BBW Central Pacific Regional ditrector in Daly City, at 994-3400 for further information.

INFLATION FIGHTING ideas

4 "What Cost Convenience?"

The U.S. Office of Consumer Affairs reminds us that while modern food technology has provided us with many convenience products that can save us time we, as consumers, should consider the "trade-offs." For example, frozen vegetables in a cream sauce offer a time-saving convenience but by taking a few extra minutes of your time, you can eliminate the additional cost of this "service."

In most cases, preparing food from "scratch" will cost you less and you may be serving food with better flavor and at least comparable quality.

If you have the time and the few additional ingredients you'll need to have on hand for cooking dishes from "scratch," you'll find yourself striking a telling blow against inflation.

Serramonte's Win a Double Shock

By MIKE FICHER

Serramonte High ballhandler Darryl Williams dribbled past the half-court stripe early in Friday's game against Westmoor and — stopped.

Stopped? Serramonte? The run-and-gun club that doesn't stop fast-breaking for timeouts or minor natural disasters?

But that's the way it was. And the other Regent starters took positions in a four-corner offense.

And after the crowd gave itself a collective pinch to make sure it wasn't dreaming, Serramonte made the four-corner work for a stunning 66-51 win over the favored Rams. Serramonte has now won five straight North Peninsula League games and has tied Westmoor for second place. Both teams are 6-3.

"We did not want to play against their zone. So we spread the court and forced them to play man-to-man. I felt our players quickness would make it effective," Serramonte Coach Rick Warne explained.

"The last time (Westmoor won, 82-68) we made the mistake of trying to beat their zone," forward Mark Jules noted. "The coach told us this strategy would work, and we knew we could beat them man-to-man. Everybody played well."

Although the score was knotted at 28 at halftime (the clubs were tied nine times in the first half), Westmoor coach Tony Giammona anticipated problems.

"I thought we would adjust, but it just didn't work out," Giammona said. "We made mistakes, and our big men didn't move enough to get board control. But Serramonte did play very well."

"Our strength is playing as a team," said Jules, who finished with 12 points. "Today we kept our heads and played patiently. We know the only way we are going to win is to play together."

Never was that more evident than in the decisive third quarter.

With an effective four-corner offense resulting in easy lay-ups and four-induced free throws, Serramonte outscored a rattled Westmoor squad 17-4, and at one point in the fourth quarter held a 60-38 advantage.

Just as effective as the four-corner was the Regents' trapping zone defense, which neutralized Westmoor's running game. Warne praised 6-1 center Steve Nelson for his physical defense on 6-5 Ram center Troy Williams.

Serramonte was paced offensively by Ricky Mixon, who tallied a game-high 23 points in addition to seven assists. Greg Broussard chipped in 12.

"We wanted to win this game to get back in the thick of things," Mixon said. "We kept our heads and played just like the coach said."

Tigers Whip El Camino

Earlier this season, Terra Nova High's basketball team had to struggle to top El Camino.

But Friday night in Pacifica there was no struggle, no question, never a doubt as TN led throughout and wound up a 69-50 winner.

The Tigers rolled up a tremendous 32-14 halftime advantage over the smaller, slower Colts. Terra Nova frontliners — 6-5 Mike Pedro, 6-4 Rich Belli and 6-4 Mike Childs — controlled the inside work, both offensively and defensively.

Tiger Coach Gary Johnson said, "We had good defense inside, and we just dominated the middle with our big men. Since all three are juniors, I am very optimistic on what next year brings as well as the remainder of this season."

The lead grew to 31 points at the end of the third stanza, 52-21. During the period, the Colts could not muster any real offense, and turnovers led to easy Tiger lay-ups.

The fourth period was mainly a playground affair, as both coaches cleared their benches. The most impressive performance in the "garbage time" was that of Colt guard Kevin Latz, who tallied nine points.

Rich Belli popped in 17 points to lead the Tiger romp, while Pedro added 12. Latz led the Colts.

Terra Nova raised its NPL record to 5-4, while the Colts dropped to 2-7.

Trojans Win, Take Share of First

Skyline College has regained first place in the Coast Conference basketball race. The Trojans share the top spot at 4-1 with Hartnell after knocking off the host Panthers, 74-67, Saturday night in Salinas.

Meanwhile Cabrillo, lone team to defeat Skyline, was beaten at Ohlone, 73-69, losing an opportunity to make it a three-way tie at the top. That allowed defending champion Menlo, a 70-64 victor over visiting Monterey Peninsula, to take a tie for third place with Cabrillo at 3-2.

Both County teams will be at home tonight, Skyline hosting Monterey Peninsula (2-3 in league a 11-4 on the year) and Menlo entertaining Gavilan (0-5).

Soph forward Reggie Love was Skyline's all-around leader in the convincing win over Hartnell, hitting six of 12 from the field all six free throws for 18 points, grabbing 11 rebounds, making eight assists and three steals.

Skyline dominated the formerly unbeaten Panthers up front as guard-forward Louis Reynaud also tallied 18 points (hitting on eight of 14 shots) and center Brad Levesque scored 14. Constantly breaking through for lay-ups, the trio sparked the Trojans to a 16-point halftime lead (38-22).

Hartnell pulled to within five points at 46-41 with 12:31 left in the game. But the same group went to work ain to lead Skyline on a 12-point spurt that increased the margin to 58-46 and the Panthers didn't recover.

Jackson's 29 Leads Jeff

Darryl Jackson, Jefferson High's scoring ace, did what was expected of him against Oceana Friday night, and the result was a 66-50 North Peninsula League basketball victory for Jeff.

Jackson pumped in 29 points, many of them coming from some great maneuvers underneath the basket, and led a full-court press that forced numerous Oceana turnovers.

Sports
And Recreation

Oceana Coach Don Novitzky explained, "We had a lot of chances in the early going with Jeff making so many turnovers, but we'd either turn it back or miss easy shots."

The Indians struck quickly, grabbing the first eight points, and ever trailed. The closest Oceana could come was 11 points at halftime. Jefferson was in control all the way.

Oceana did manage to hold hot-shooting Jeff guard Bob Oller to zero points. A zone defense kept Oller away from the basket, and he never got a good look at the bucket.

Jefferson, which had already clinched a spot in the play-offs, is now zeroing in on the round-robin championship with a 9-0 mark. Jeff hosts El Camino Tuesday.

Oceana still clings to the possibility of a playoff berth. "I figure that Jeff, Westmoor, and Serramonte have the first three places sewn up, but the fourth spot should be between us and Terra Nova," said Novitzky.

The Sharks, 4-5, visited Half Moon Bay Tuesday.

Skyline Women Tie

It's nice to be in a situation where people are actually coming to scout us," chuckled Skyline College women's basketball coach Pam Reagan. "The Monterey Peninsula coach suffered a four-hour round-trip drive to watch us tonight."

And the rest of the league is getting a good eyeful of the Trojans, too; the first-year team upped their Coast Conference record to 3-1 by crushing visiting Hartnell 73-56 Friday night.

Skyline is on a three-way deadlock for the league lead. Ohlone knocked off previously undefeated Cabrillo Friday.

Skyline's Yvonne Abrams sank 21 points and grabbed 15 rebounds, and Tina Palepale got 19 points and 12 boards.

Bulldogs Cheer Coach's Honor

College of San Mateo's women's basketball team had just knocked visiting West Valley out of a share of first place in the Golden Gate Conference, but the post-game talk wasn't about the fine effort of the Bulldogs.

Sure, San Mateo came on with a big spurt in the second half to bury the Vikings 75-51, giving the 'Dogs a 5-1 mark (18-1 overall) in the GGC compared with West Valleys' 4-2. De Anza and City College of San Francisco each also have only one loss.

The game had been moved from Friday to Saturday night to allow Bulldog mentor Tom Martinez to attend an awards ceremony in Southern California, where Martinez received a Coach-of-the-Year award, voted by his peers statewide for the 1978 season.

Ten of his present players accompanied Martinez on the trip, which included a side-trip to Disneyland, something last year's team had done while in the Southland for the state playoffs.

"It meant more to me to have my girls at that award banquet than to win tonight," said Martinez. "When they called my name, I got up to go up there, and all 10 players stood up and applauded.

"Everybody in the place looked around because they were the only players there. That meant a lot."

The players and coaches didn't get a lot of sleep Friday night and walked around most of Disneyland Saturday before being delayed two hours in their flight back to San Francisco for the West Valley game.

The girls were very tired, but it certainly didn't show as they played one of their better games against a good West Valley team.

Interceptions Plague MPL Flagball QBs

Life was tough Friday for quarterbacks in Mid-Peninsula League flag football.

Interceptions were the key factors in Burlingame's 18-0 win over Capuchino, San Mateo's 28-6 victory over Aragon and Hillsdale's 8-0 decision from Crestmoor.

Hillsdale finished the season in second place behind idle Mills, which had locked up the title Thursday.

Debbie Vaughn made three of the Burlingame's six interceptions, with one each swiped by Amy Diepenbrock, Kerry Keats and Janet Leahy. Leading the Panther line corps that keyed the Panther shutout was senior Ann Lavelle, who made five tackles.

San Mateo's Denise Jezycki got 10 interceptions to single-handedly keep the Aragon offense off balance in the Bearcat's victory. San Mateo quarterback Jodi Turtletaub rifled touchdown passes to Jezycki (13 yards), Cindy Morris (10 yards) and Dina Tribuzzi (40 yards). Cindy Morris added an insurance TD with a 15-yard run in the last period.

Hillsdale and Crestmoor battled in a scoreless tie for three quarters until Knight quarterback Cheryl Kure found Amy Deveau for an 18-yard scoring pass early in the fourth period for the win.

A Contribution to Post-Super Bowl Hype

For once the Super Bowl game wasn't as boring as its build-up, although it was almost anti-climactic.

I can't remember when I've been more enthusiastic about Super Day. Could hardly wait for the game to begin. Not because I had bet on it, although its coming was so dragged out that there was a point at which I wasn't sure it actually would be played and might have bet a few bob that the NFL was just kidding about it. And not for the purist's reason of watching a clash for superiority between the two best at their game.

No, I could hardly wait for the game to begin because then I knew that all the pre-game hype finally would be over, and the sports pages could be released for other duties, such as the reporting of basketball, and maybe even a little baseball.

Of course, we now are stuck with the post-game hype, but that isn't nearly as nerve-wracking because they cut out the drum rolls with the post-game hype.

And that's all I have to say about the Super Bowl, because I've just realized that I'm one of the guys contributing to its immortalization, even if it is post game anti-hype.

If I hear one more coach lament about Woody Hayes' fate and tell us that he was good to his players and a gentleman off the field, and to "Remember all the good things Woody did for college football," I'm liable to start bringing up the fact that Mussolini did, after all, make the trains run on time.

If somebody could explain logically to me what it is exactly that Woody Hayes did for college football, I also might be willing to admit that Hitler was good to his soldiers and a gentleman to the end with Eva Braun, off the field, so to speak.

Not that I mean in any way to equate Hayes with those social monsters. I just mean to point out that, of course, nobody is all bad. Even the worst of us have our good qualities, our gentle moments.

But ultimately we all are judged by our social posture and our effect on society, and Hayes is a social cripple who never did anything for society except put a lot of money into the coffers of a major university, which used the old bully until his cussedness finally overshadowed his winning percentage.

If making Ohio State independently wealthy is doing a lot for college football, then I guess Hayes did a lot for college football. And, yes, he treated his players well, and why not? He traversed their bodies on his personal path to glory and power.

Well, like the Super Bowl, I'm tired of Woody Hayes, and here I am perpetuating his memory.

Oh, what the heck. He did make his fullbacks run on time.

Joe McGrath, retired Jefferson High School football coach, was waxing nostalgic, as they say in the cliches, recently about one of his former boys, John Madden.

Madden's own recent retirement from football, of course, is what inspired the flowing memories.

Madden turned out for football at Jefferson as a Riordan transfer in 1953.

"Even in those days," recalls McGrath, "John was a big guy — 6-4, 240 pounds. What a lineman, I said to myself. But the first day out for practice big John tells me he wants to be a fullback!

"Well, tell you the truth, he would have made a helluva high school fullback. Not only was he big and had the desire, but in straight-away races he was always the second or third fastest guy on the team.

"The only thing was, in those days we had a helluva backfield, some fine running backs, and a little quarterback who could pass like hell if he had the protection. What we really needed was a big center who could hold the line for our quarterback. John obviously was the man we needed. But I never made a kid play a position he really didn't want to. I would explain to the kid the needs of the team and what I felt his talent was, and then if he still wanted to play the position he said he could play, I'd let him.

"Well, I explained the situation to John, and his first reaction, was 'Ah, coach, I've always wanted to be a fullback.' I told him that if that's what he wanted, he could be a fullback, but that he would'nt be helping the team as much as he could. After a few days he came around and 'volunteered' to be the center, and of course he went on to become all-league.

"But John did get his chances at being a back, because he was such a good kid that I figured I needed to keep him interested. I devised a spread formation especially for John that made the center an eligible receiver. We got in several games in which he had big leads late in the game, and we used it. John not only caught a few passes too long yardage, but he actually caught a touchdown pass one day. You ask him about that even today, and I'll bet he'll tell you it was one of his biggest thrills in football."

Madden, incidentally, is one of those celebrities who never forgets his roots or his friends. When McGrath retired in the Raiders' Super Bowl year, Madden, in the middle of a blistering schedule, was one of the first arrivals and last departures at the retirement party. Friends who have gone on to become teachers and/or coaches always have been able to call on Madden to make a gratis appearance for their students. He has given interviews to the student newspaper in the middle of football season.

In short, John Madden has been and is everything Woody Hayes never could have conceived of being. A good guy, a gentleman, a first-class professional in the finest sense of the word — off and on the field.

Retraction — sort of: A few weeks ago I wrote of the old semipro football team, the South San Francisco Windbreakers, and mentioned prominently a running back, one Joe Muzzin. I said he was from Balboa, even though I knew he was from the long-since defunct Commerce High in San Francisco. The moment I saw it in print, I knew I was wrong. It was just one of those inexplicable blunders. But, I figured, who would know the difference? Muzzin was one of the most obscure running backs of all time.

Hah! Two people wrote me insulting letters reminding me that Joe Muzzin went to Commerce, and why don't I do my homework?

All of which proves that there is no such thing as an obscure athlete, as long as he has at least two fans.

Sudden thoughts: Joe Thomas still has four years to run on his contract with the DeBartolos. I wonder. If he doesn't hook on in football, might we some day soon see him managing a shopping center.

Is Wes Cox the only player in the NBA with a lower free throw than field goal percentage?

And it's ironic that Al Attles, who practically invented the 10-man pro first string, now is being accused — with reason — of not making enough use of his bench. Of course, Al has his reasons, too. Among many other negative bench statistics: Five of the first seven Warriors are shooting 50 percent from the field, Phil Smith is 49.5). None of the last four are anywhere near that figure.

Espionage Entertainment

By RICHARD C. MOON

There are a number of good "search" games on the market today, particularly popular with players who enjoy plotting strategies and scheming to outwit their opponents.

The basic concept behind search games is simple. Players place an object or objects on their side of the board or playing surface, out of sight of their opponents who do the same. Players then take turns trying to locate each others' hidden objects. The first player to succeed wins.

Many companies have been ingenious in designing games around this idea but perhaps no one has produced a better search game than Ideal. The game is "Checkpoint Danger!"

In Checkpoint Danger! you enter the world of global espionage. You are in charge of a team of special agents which you must position in a secret network around the globe. Then begins a battle of nerves, wits and logic. With the use of intelligence-gathering "probes," you use logic to determine the enemy's positions and locate each of the agents in his spy network before he uncovers yours.

Checkpoint Danger! is designed for two players, age 10 to adult. The game comprises two "global scanner" units (each with its own world map, plastic playing board and transparent lid), 180 plastic probe markers, secret agent and eliminators. The playing surface is a grid placed over a colorful map of the world. There are 63 checkpoints on this grid, representing hiding places. Each player used this grid to set up his network of secret agents.

On player is red, the other yellow. Each player takes four agents, 16 enemy probes and 36 eliminators.

Players then secretly position their four agents, which are not moved for the duration of the game.

The player whose turn it is is called the Attacker. Red always goes first. The Attacker calls out the coordinates of a vacant checkpoint on the grid. His opponent places an enemy probe into this location on his grid. He then announces how many of his agents can be seen from his checkpoint. An agent can be "seen" if he is located along any of the lines on the grid which touch the checkpoint.

When the Attacker calls out the checkpoint of his opponent's agents, the opponent announces "hit" and inserts an eliminator. The Attacker then wins a free turn. The Attacker who locates all the enemy agents first is, of course, the winner.

Naturally, there is quite a bit of strategy that can be employed by clever players. And, as the manufacturers says, this game makes use of the best computer of all, your own mind.

CHAIRMAN

Joe Holsinger has appointed Conrad Pavellas of Daly City the North County chairman of the Holsinger for Congress campaign. The special election to fill the 11th Congressional District seat of the late Leo J. Ryan will be March 6. Holsinger's North County campaign office is at 6335 Mission St., Daly City.

Red Cross Sets Dresden Show

The Golden Gate Chapter of the American Red Cross has announced it will present the first sponsor showing of one of the richest exhibitions of art in the world, the Splendor of Dresden. Eight museums in Dresden have loaned over 700 art treasures for exhibition at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco.

The Red Cross show will be March 1 from 6 to 10 p.m. The private showing is made possible by a grant from Bay View Federal Savings. Mrs. John S. Logan is chairman of the event.

Shuttle service from a lighted parking lot at Cabrillo and the Great Highway will be provided by the Red Cross.

Tickets for the Red Cross showing are $15 per person and are tax deductible. Information about reservations may be obtained by calling the Red Cross, 776-1500.

Heart Attack Is Topic

Samuel McFadden, M.D., will be guest speaker at the Feb. 6 heart-to-Heart meeting at Mary's Help Hospital. His topic will be "What's A Heart Attack?" The meeting will be at 10:30 a.m. in the classroom on the ground floor of the hospital. Mary's Help Hospital is at 1900 Sullivan Ave., Daly City.

Heart-to-Heart meetings are the first Tuesday of every month and are sponsored by Mary's Help and the San Francisco Heart Association. The meetings are intended to educate and provide support for people who have had heart attacks or coronary artery bypasses. Families are invited to attend. There is no charge. For information call 992-4000, ext. 234.

ROP Seeks Office Job Class Signups

The San Mateo County Regional Occupational Program is accepting students for classes in office occupations. The program is free and is geared for beginners and adults who may need re-training before returning to the working adult.

The individualized program would allow students to work at their own pace while training in typing, office machines, transcribing machines, math, filing, English, bookkeeping, and shorthand. Classes are during the day and new students are allowed into the program as soon as an opening occurs. Information for the Daly City Center can be obtained at 755-8225.

The Regent

By GENNY HOM
Commissioner of Outside Publicity

This week I'd like to congratulate several Serramonte student athletes who have been honored recently.

Named to the all-county football team were Mike Kuchac and Anthony Hale. The all-league football team was dominated by our championship football players. First team honors went to Doug Stewart, Hale, Kuchac, John Drewke, Joe Nobles, and Ron Cranshaw. Second team honors went to Darly Williams and Eric Jones. Honorable mention went to Steve Nelson, Pio Tiumavave, and Chico Arcaya. Kuchac also was selected Lineman of the Year. Our football coach, Ken Cook, was selected Coach of the Year.

Placed in the all-league first team in girls varsity volleyball was Lori Dominquez. Julie Price placed on the first team all-league in junior varsity volleyball. Second team honors in junior varsity volleyball went to Kathi Tamblin and Sherry Harrod. Congratulations, Regents.

Parents: If your student will not be attending school, please call the attendance office (992-9555) between 9 a.m. and noon, to report the absence. This will help the attendance clerk in her efforts to make contact with the home when a student does not report to school. Also, if your child will be absent from school for three or more days, please let the attendance office know so it can make a pre-arranged absence to inform the teachers.

The Daly City-Colma Exchange Club honors a different senior every month for outstanding services. Students honored from Serramonte so far are October student of the month Imogene Mamoe, our student body president; Daria Wiggins, senior class president, November student of the month; Marianne Lenci, December student of the month; and Shirley Ong, student body treasurer, January student of the month.

Two of Serramonte's teachers gave birth to healthy babies in December, Mrs. Eraklidis had a son and Mrs. Kehl a daughter. The students of Serramonte wish them their congratulations.

Serramonte has two new teachers in the physical education department. Welcome to Morris Hodges and Ms. Diane Klinker.

New paraprofessionals also have joined us at Serramonte. Welcome to Renee Amabale and Mary Parashis in the Math Complex; Joan Dennison and Joann Faynor in the Reading Lab; Nereida Joseph in the main office; Royann Ridgley in the English Resource Center and Mitchell Sanchez and Susanna Wong in the Bilingual Department.

Serramonte's Filipino bilingual program is a year old. It offers classes in math, history and English. There is still room in each of these classes and students are needed to fill them. If you have an questions about the program, contact Mr. Pangilinan.

The California Scholarship Federation at Serramonte has concluded a successful mug sale. The mugs will have the school Regent emblem on them. Students in CSF took orders for three days and about 300 mugs were sold. Contact any CSF member about where and when your mug can be picked up.

Are you a good photographer? Do you enjoy taking pictures? The journalism class is sponsoring a photo contest. For more information contact the staff of the Crown during seventh period in room 104.

Disease From Pets

By D. R. BARNETT, DVM

Question: The cutest monkey of them all is the marmoset. A friend had one once that could sit in the palm of your hand. It was called a "cotton top." Because we live in an apartment, this would be the right kind of pet for me. Where do you get them? And can they live in this climate?

Answer: Veterinarians, wild-life experts, zoo officials and enlightened animal lovers in general all agree that the keeping of exotic pets of all types should be condemned. Marmosets are the smallest of the primates and the "cotton top" is indeed cute, as you have observed, with a white tuft of hair on the crown extending over the neck. They have enough intelligence, as do other exotic animals, to observe that their surroundings in captivity are alien. Their behavior patterns and instincts are frustrated when kept as pets by well-meaning humans. The result is an unhappy and often neurotic pet and a disappointed owner. The marmosets are very docile, but when around strangers or if subjected to sudden noises, may bite. The female often kills her first offspring when bred in captivity, probably due to anxiety. This is not due to our climate, because they can flourish here as long as extra ultraviolet light is added if they are kept indoors. For every marmoset (and other exotic pets) sold as a pet, there are at least 10 others that have died before ever reaching a dealer. This is a conservative estimate. The high mortality is due to inadequate diet, stress and overcrowding during the long journey from South America.

Question: Do you recommend giving vitamin tablets to older dogs? Is brewer's yeast helpful in keeping them healthy? I have two dogs and they are good eaters. I try to prepare special dishes for them, but they eat only small portions. Do they lose their appetite with age?

Answer: A geriatric formula of vitamins and hormones often is helpful in the aged dog and sometimes this will stimulate the appetite. Brewers yeast contains mainly the B vitamins, but in moderate quantities it is helpful also.

Sisterhood Goes Racing

Congregation B'nai Israel Sisterhood will have a "Nite at the Races" Feb. 17 at 6:30 p.m. at Bay Meadows Turf Club.

A donation of $25 a couple includes dinner, admission, program, reserved tables overlooking the race course, and a race named in honor of Congregation B'nai Israel.

Proceeds will benefit the Bea Friedman Fund, a scholarship fund for deserving students. For Reservations and or Tickets, call Shirley Witham, 756-8839 or Hannah Greendorfer, 992-0968.

THE DIET CORNER

By ELISE GENDAR

What to do when you want to eat and won't.

That's a dilemma for the dieter. If you've solved most of life's other mysteries, let your imagination run riot with this one.

For openers, instead of eating you can:

Dial phone number for the weather and listen to the forecast.

Make a list of your favorite movies.

Write a fan letter to Paul Newman, Burt Reynolds, John Travolta, or Henry Kissinger.

Walk up close to your wall paper and see what the pattern's like at nose length.

Play cat's cradle.

Count your respirations.

Pull out all the coupons of the current magazines and count how much money you would save if you used them.

Write yourself a letter telling yourself what you like best about you.

List all the jobs you'd like to try.

Make a paper airplane.

Just sit there and look wise.

Try to remember the names of your teachers from the first grade on up.

As you can see, with a bit of creativity, there are any number of things that can be done other than eat. No one said you had to be useful, constructive or profitable. Just non-eating.

When you run the gamut of non-things to do, then eat this.

VEGETABLE CHEESE TOSS

1 10-ounce package frozen French string beans, cooked and cool
¼ cup green pepper, chopped
1 carrot, grated
1 tablespoon onion, minced
½ cup celery, sliced
¼ cup French dressing, dietetic
1 ounce roquefort cheese, crumbled

Combine all ingredients. Refrigerate. Serve cold.

For something else to do, drop me a line. I'd be interested in your list of what to do other than eat. My address is The Diet Workshop, 2533 Taraval St., San Francisco, 94116.

FOR BOOK FAIR (Dave Dornias Photo)

The Valentine Book Fair for Book Lovers of the Friends of the Daly City Library will be Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Garden Court and adjoining areas of the Westlake Shopping Center. Truckloads of books for home study, research and pleasure, as well as a large collection of records, will be sold. Silent auctions of unusual items are scheduled for 10 and 11 a.m. Proceeds benefit the four Daly City public libraries. Rehearsing decorating for the fair are Mrs. Winona Pepin, left, and Friends President Virginia Tierney, right.

NELL NORTON

Good morning, good cooks.

When they make potato salad in Italy, they use wine vinegar and olive oil instead of mayonnaise and it's all the difference in the world. The wine vinegar gives the potatoes a faintly rosy hue and the overall flavor is zesty without being heavy and creamy. This is a potato salad that goes especially well with barbecued meats and chicken.

INSALATA DI PATATE
(Potato Salad)

6 medium-sized all-purpose potatoes
½ cup olive oil
1 teaspoon basil leaves, crushed
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
1/3 cup wine vinegar
¼ cup chopped sweet roasted peppers
¼ cup salad olives, chopped

In a large saucepan of boiling salted water cook 6 potatoes until tender, about 25 minutes; drain and cool. Peel potatoes and cut into ¼-inch thick slices (makes about 5 cups). Place potatoes in a large mixing bowl; cover and set aside.

In a small bowl stir together ½ cup olive oil, 1 teaspoon basil, 1½ teaspoons salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper; let stand for 10 minutes. Stir in the third cup vinegar, ¼ cup each sweet roasted peppers and salad olives, chopped. Place a layer of potatoes in bottom of salad bowl. Sprinkle with some of the dressing. Continue layering and sprinkling with dressing until potatoes are well coated. Serve lukewarm or, cover and chill, turning potatoes over once or twice. Makes 6 portions.

Barbara Bladen Faced With Choices

Barry Bostwick's name had become synonymous with the Tony Award by the time "Movie, Movie" was released in December. He was nominated in '72 for the Broadway musical, "Grease," in the role John Travolta performs in the film version, another in '76 for "They Knew What They Wanted" and finally went home with one tucked under his arm in '77 for best actor in a musical, "The Robber Bridegroom."

By the time the two-part nostalgia comedy "Movie, Movie" hit the screens (it has now opened on the Peninsula and I recommend it highly), Bostwick was already an underground cult film hero from the bizarre popularity of "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" that is playing to long lines of midnight viewers who arrive in costume and proceed to trash the theaters in a weird new "happening" event that the film has inspired.

With the showing on Feb. 17 of the TV "Saturday at The Movies" CBS special, "Murder by Natural Causes" with Hal Holbrook, and a two-part "Hawaii Five-O" in early March that he shot last summer in Singapore, the former San Matean will be highly visible across the nation.

His career has skyrocketed to where he is facing the dilemma of choice, turning down roles, rescheduling his time to fit in commitments and being cautious about what his next step will be. With the announcement last week that he'd been cast as Che Guevara in the hot ticket London musical, "Evita," which will go to Broadway by way of 13 weeks in Los Angeles and seven in San Francisco before heading east, I called him in New York for confirmation.

"It's a tough decision. I love the show and certainly would like to do it but it would mean tying myself up for eight performances a week for at least a year or more.

"I don't want to give up too much and Hal Prince is not pressing me for an immediate response. He's busy finishing 'Sweeney Todd' and I just have to carefully consider what it will mean to be touring and then a possible long run on Broadway," the 6-foot-4, 175-pound exciting new star explained.

Bostwick was home for Christmas visiting his parents, the Bud Bostwicks of San Mateo. They encouraged him from an early age to study drama following a childhood of designing and directing puppet shows from age 9. They are his biggest boosters and Barry has obviously inherited their zest for life and their great sense of humor.

As for his movie debut in "The Rocky Horror Picture Show," which is now a national rage, Bostwick appears wearing a garter belt, black mesh stockings and five-inch spike heels. After the film was completed, he refused to part with the shoes saying "where else would I find a pair of five-inch spike heel shoes size 10½ that fit?"

His route to stardom was circuitous in terms of today's instant stars made overnight by the media rather than by talent. He appeared with Hillbarn Little Theater, got his bachelor's degree at Western University in San Diego and performed there with the San Diego Shakespeare Festival and the Phoenix APA, under director Ellis Raab.

"I came out of an upper-class suburban background and that's how you did things. I didn't have anyone to tell me about New York acting schools so I went the academic route. When I got to New York University, that's where my troubles began. I couldn't adjust to people saying I couldn't act. The teachers insisted I was performing but not acting."

He began a long and fruitful association with a psychiatrist who helped him deal with making choices. That was six years ago and he still relies on his doctor for the kind of feedback and objectivity that is needed to keep on an even keel in a career traditionally fraught with neurosis.

"I'm lucky he's still charging me the same rates," Bostwick said.

'Friends' Set Book Fair For Feb. 3

The Valentine Book Fair for Book Lovers of the Friends of the Daly City Library is scheduled for Feb. 3, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., in the Garden Court area of Westlake Shopping Center. Books, records and sheet music will be sold.

Silent auctions of unusual books, under chairmanship of Louene Rossina, assisted by Gertrude Kendree, will be at 10 and 11 a.m.

There will be truckloads of books of a wide variety. A special category this fair is horsemanship. A large collection of records, especially albums, will be offered.

In charge of trucks will be Lois Manbert, publicity, Virginia Tierney; and parking lot lanai, Alice Barichievich. Winona Pepin and Denise Schwarzbach, along with the latter two, have been book processors.

Last-minute donations may be left in depositories at any of the four Daly City public libraries. Proceeds will benefit the Daly City Public Library.

TECHNICIANS
SWING SHIFT
At FARINON ELECTRONIC we don't put a ceiling on our future growth or the professional growth of our employees. That is why a swing shift has been added. Hours 3:30-12:00 plus 10% differential. Full time and part time people are required for expansion of test area. If you are a quick learner with an AA degree or military equivalent, you can build on your experience as a panel, terminal or multiplexer technician. Responsibilities require experience in general communications, radio and/or multiplexer testing and troubleshooting. This includes baseband, IF, digital, RF, and/or multiplexer equipment.
Part time openings for students who will graduate with an AA degree in electronics within a year and would like hands-on experience are also available.
Farinon is your size company: large enough to offer outstanding growth opportunities, small enough for your efforts to show! Our philosophy is simple — complete commitment to producing the highest quality microwave telecommunications products by people that like to become involved. With their work. With each other. With ideas. If you're that type of person, then we have a position for you.
To apply, contact Helen Turner (415) 592-4120. We are an equal opportunity employer, m/f/h. FARINON ELECTRI
